

Welcome to Taber Extrusions! As previously communicated, Taber Extrusions has acquired the assets of Exact Manufacturing from Lou-Rich. Taber Extrusions acquisition of the precision extrusion assets solidifies Taber's leadership position in supplying end to end extrusion, alloy, and fabrication services. At this time, the assets of Exact are still producing product and managed by the same Exact Manufacturing Employees under the direction of Taber Extrusions. In the near future, the assets of Exact Manufacturing will be relocated from their current location to their new home at Taber Extrusions Russellville, Arkansas location.

We at Taber Extrusions are excited to integrate the capabilities of Exact Manufacturing in to the Taber family. The integration of these new assets further sets Taber apart from other extruders in adding to our unique capabilities. We invite you to browse www.TaberExtrusions.com to help familiarize yourself with the vast capabilities of Taber Extrusions. We're sure you'll see Taber as the: Shape of Endless Possibilities

As we continue to transition, please let us know any production requirements needed within the next few months and Taber will ensure material is pre-produced prior to the relocation of the equipment.

The following is the contact information for Anthony Langley, Taber Extrusions, Customer Service Manager – Russellville. Please feel free to contact us should you have any questions or concerns regarding the transition from Exact Manufacturing to Taber Extrusions.
